

BECOME A LEADER

At Rocky Mountain College, it is our mission to educate future leaders through liberal arts and professional programs. We also know that being a leader also includes having strong ties to the community and its stakeholders. The BILLINGS LEADERSHIP NETWORK program offers first- and second-year RMC students the opportunity to build impactful relationships with our community leaders. In alignment with our mission, we want our students to have the access and resources they need to influence the local community and change the world.

THE BILLINGS LEADERSHIP NETWORK

The Rocky Mountain College Community Council invites current students to work with distinguished members of the Billings community through this new and exciting mentorship program.

In partnership with BILLINGSWORKS and NEXTGEN, Rocky Mountain College's Community Council is offering the BILLINGS LEADERSHIP NETWORK program for current Rocky students.

In the BILLINGS LEADERSHIP NETWORK program, first- and second-year RMC students will be paired with a member of NEXTGEN and a volunteer community leader. Twice each semester, students and their community mentors will meet for lunch to discuss academic and professional interests and goals. Mentors will share information about career and networking opportunities throughout Billings.

The primary purpose of the BILLINGS LEADERSHIP NETWORK is to assist students as they develop connections in the community, explore local careers, and take advantage of all that Billings has to offer.

Another goal of the program is to help students as they face future career-minded course selections by enhancing their knowledge of lifestyle expectations related to various for-profit and non-profit businesses in the region.

Mentors in the program are proud of Billings' diverse economy and lifestyle and hope this program will encourage talented young people to consider pursuing careers in Billings after graduation.

Billings is a great city, and the students and graduates of Rocky Mountain College will continue to make it better.

THE NEXTGEN NETWORK exists to foster relationships among young professionals, develop business opportunities, support civic involvement, and promote an overall investment in the future of our community. NEXTGEN members are professionals ranging from ages 18-40 who are committed to their own and others' leadership development in order to support Billings. The role of the NEXTGEN member in this program is to bring an up-and-coming perspective to the conversation and support both the students and community leaders in assessing what young professionals need here in Billings.

BILLINGSWORKS, a collaboration of Billings businesses and organizations, is bringing it all together. By anticipating Billings' workforce needs, BILLINGSWORKS is focused on talent attraction and retention, helping to develop local education that provides the skills needed for key industries, and engaging the business community in the process.
